Get to Know Institute of Public Health & Hygiene

Celebrating our LEGACY

The extreme shortage of medical facilities in the Country, prompted the establishment of Institute Of Public Health & Hygiene at New Delhi in July, 1976, Under the able guidance and mature insight of the Founder Chairman, Late Dr. Shyam Sunder Joshi. The foundation of the erstwhile academic excellence and his visionary ideas led him to envision and create an Institution that was inclusive and opened. Institute of Public Health & Hygiene is a co-educational Institute catering to students from all walks of life & It is with pride that we count many students from all parts of the World among our alumni.

Forging our future

The Institution is committed to serve the future perspective more than any other institute. The Institute is doing this by educating individuals for fulfilling, productive lives and by creating solutions to present or anticipated problems through active participation in educational activities.

As a major teaching Institute, IPH&H is both a repository for accumulated knowledge and experience and a testing ground for critically examining perceived wisdom, where basic and elementary training is conducted in a wide variety of fields and across disciplines. Taught by inspired, committed, and creative faculty, our programmes are combined with enduring value of liberal arts education with the skills and experience offered by professional Institutions, to ensure that our students are engaged, adaptable, and equipped for successful careers and fulfilling lives.

The Institute is an in-service Training Centre for the Army, Navy, Air force Coast guards from the Min. of Defence (DGR), New Delhi, Min. of Home Affairs, CRPF, Min. of Civil Aviation, Min. of Social Justice & Empowerment, Govt. of India and various State Governments viz., Govt. of Nagaland, Manipur, Mizoram, Assam, Madhya Pradesh, Sikkim, Meghalaya, Chandigarh Administration, Ladakh Hill Council, North Eastern Hill Council, University of Delhi, Members of Federation of Indian Chamber of Commerce and Industry, International Airport Authority of India, All India Institute of Medical Sciences, Cement Corporation of India, TELCO, UNO, Sanjay Gandhi Post Graduate Institute of Medical Sciences, Regional Institute of Medical Sciences, Indian Airlines, Children's Home, Private Hospitals, Nursing Homes, Organisations, Institutions, Establishments, Northern Railway etc. and is a vocational training provider of the Director of Technical Education and Training, Govt. of NCT Delhi under SDI-MES scheme of the Govt. of India and National Skill Development Corporation, Govt. of India and recognized by INC & DNC for ANM/GNM Course.

The Campus

About the Course

Auxiliary Nursing & Midwifery (ANM)

Auxiliary Nursing & Midwifery (ANM)

Introduction: Auxiliary nurses, in essence, are healthcare assistants who provide great help to professional staff to take care and look after the medical needs of patients in hospitals, nursing care facilities or in a community. Once you become an auxiliary nurse, you need to perform basic care duties, working as an important part of a team under the direct supervision of a registered nurse or a physician. A very responsible and noble profession, which gives you dual opportunities of a lucrative career option with service to the humanity at the same time. In modern day scenario and keeping in view of the acute scarcity of the trained nurses, the role of ANM has become even much crucial which will continue to change and expand in years to come.

Career Objective

The objectives of this programme is to prepare skilled and effective workforce of trained staff nurses who, under the direction of a registered nurse, is prepared to give basic nursing care at the community level/village with specific skills. It is aimed to bring dramatic improvements in health system and health status of the country by large and fulfill health needs of the community in particular.

Duration : Two Years

(24 Months including 6 Months Internship)

Job Opportunities

Job prospects for a trained Auxiliary Nursing & Midwifery professional are very bright. Passed out candidate may find a challenging career in hospitals, dispensaries, primary health centers, school health education, community health centers etc. Moreover, on gaining work experience, they may also find a demanding job in educational Schools as supervisor/demonstrators to the students. In India, the Government has created National Rural Health Mission in year 2005 and the role of trained ANM has been pivotal since inception of the project and will be expanding further in times to come.
